Streets of New York.

At Richmond yesterday in the Read-juster state convention, the third ballot for governor resulted: Cameron 291, Groner 104, Massey 257, Wise SS. The conven-tion then proceeded with the fourth bal-lot, but before the result was announced the Massey, Groner and Wise men began going over to Cameron rapidly. The Mas-sey leaders asked permission for a confer-ence, which was not acceded. It became evident that Cameron had received the nomination by a large majority, and some nomination by a large majority, and some of Massey's men asked to have it made unanimous, which was about to be done. At this juncture Gen. Mahone asked, for the sake of barmony, that the Massey men be allowed to confer as desired, which was tacitly agreed to. After a brief respite the chairman announced that W. E. Cameron had been nominated, and Mr. Massey moved to make the nomination unanimous, which was agreed to.

At Low Moor, Alleghany county, Va., yesterday as a negro boy who is employed at the tron works was conveying a can of of dynamite to the powder house, stopped at the blacksmith shop, which he entered with the dynamite can in his hands. In a moment afterwards persons in the vicinity were startled by a thundering detonation, and saw the debris of the blacksmith shop and saw the debris of the blacksmith shop flying in all directions. Upon hastening to the scene it was discovered that the building was entirely demolished. The bodies of the boy, who caused the fatal explosion, and three colored men, who were at work in the shop, were discovered in the ruins in a dreadfully mutilated condition, but none were actually dead. They were taken to the bospital attached to the iron works for treatment, but, it is unlikely any of for treatment, but it is unlikely any of them will recover. What caused the ex-plosion caunot now be learned, as none who were in the shop at the time are in a condition to give any information.

The Streets of New York.
Commander Gorringe has written a letter to Mayor Grace, of New York, declining the position which the mayor tendered him as the head of the new street-cleaning department. The grounds of his declination are that if he assumed the duties he could not discharge them for the simple reason that the law that has been framed at Albany is a trick and a fraud. framed at Albany is a trick and a fraud, and that under its provisions clean streets are an impossibility.

The Reading Railroad.

President Bond, of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, received a letter yesterday from Receiver Gowen, fully recognizing him as president of the company, and all the books, papers and seals have been passed over to him.

Baltimore Exposition Society. The committe appointed at a meeting on Tuesday of the proposed incorporators of "The Industrial Exposition and Musical Festival Association of Baltimore City" Festival Association of Baltimore City" to report a plan for permanent organization held a meeting yesterday at the City Hall. The committee consists of German H. Hunt, Otto Sutro, John W. McCoy, Henry C. Smith and D. L. Bartlett. All were present except Mr. McCoy. The matter was talked over, and a report will be prepared and submitted to another meeting of the committee for adoption. It is expected the committee will be ready to report to a meeting of the proposed incorporators on Monday next. It is understood that Mayor Latrobe will be permanent president of the association.

Fatal Explosion in a Lobster Fac-tory.

The steam boiler is the Lawis "Lobster Factory," at Petpeswick, 30 miles east of Halifax, exploded late Thursday night, killing Charles W. Kinlay. A number of other workmen were badly injured, viz: Saml. Turner, Talmas Young, Abram Boyers and John McKay.

Mr. and Mrs. I enry Niemann, of Desplaines, Ill., while driving home in a storm Thursday, were toth struck by lightning and killed. Their horses were also killed. Mr. and Mrs. Niemann were both found sitting upright in the buggy, and the lady's dress had taken fire and burned marky off.

Political Disinterestedness.

The World says to-day: The Albany dispatches show more clearly day by day that whatever of life and vigor there is left to the republican party in this State is really represented by Mr. Conkling. The espousal of his cause by so many well-known politicians comes as near, when we consider the attitude openly taken by the Federal Administration, and when we consider the attitude openly taken by the Federal Administration, and the attitude very commonly believed to have been taken by the State Administra-tion, to political disinterestedness as we are ever likely to see professional politiclans come.

cians come.

Loyalty of the Clan.

There is really something like the loyalty of the old Highland class in the attitude of Mr. Conkling's supporters. They not only support him out of loyalty to him as a leader, but they actually support Platt, although they are obviously aware how heavy a load Platt is to carry, lest Platt should suffer tor an act of devotion to their common chief.

The Unchivalrous Half-Breeds.

The Unchivalrous Half-Breeds.
What is their chivalrous in the action of any section or clique of the half-breeds! Some of them have personal grudges to avenge. Some of them have personal ambitions to gratify. A large majority of them are evidently moved simply by the consideration that they are much surer to be fed if they vote with Garfield than if they vete for Conkling.

More Cheerful.

Under this heading the Tribine says:
Oppressed as we all are with the contemplation of the possibility that the country may be permanently deprived of the services of Mr. Conking and "Me Too," we may find some little comfort, at least, in the fact that the democratic leaders, who were lately viewing pretty much everywere lately viewing lately viewing pretty much everywere lately viewing pretty much e were lately viewing pretty much evening in sight "with alarm," have denly become cheerful and chiruppy. have sud-

Alarm of the Patriots.

Onlya little while ago the Tammany
Hall people had a most lugubrious session, at which Mr. Augustus Schell presided, and resolutions were adopted expressive of the alarm with which that patriotic band viewed the growth of great monopolies, the encreachments of power. monopolies, the encroachments of power, and the general tendency of things.

Saved by an Effigy.
It was intimated in the resolutions that nothing could arrest the tendency short nothing could arrest the tendency short of the erection of a bronze effigy of Jefferson, "the Father of the Democratic Party," in some conspicuous place in the city. The seriousness with which the Tammany Society considered the situation was in some measure indicated by the gravity of the proposition. The Democracy of this city are not in the habit of erecting monuments. When it comes to that there's something the matter.

The Cheerful Change. But things have changed since then. The organs of the party play no longer on the uthor keys, but jingle dancling tunes. The fears with which that great party was racked lest the Republicans might injure their reputation for honesty by an unboly alliance with Mahone have sheep yearly subsided; the perils to freedom from the growth of mammoth corporations and the baneful influence of monopolies have ceased to terrify; and they who were lately viewing everything with alarm are now smiling upon the outlook.

The Thought Reader.

London, June 4.—Mr. Bishop, the London, June 4.—Mr. Bishop, the lately viewing everything with alarm are now smiling upon the outlook.

The Albany Conflict. The Heralic says to-day: If the opponents of Mr. Conkling take comfort in the consideration that there is no brilliant prospect for his success in the conflict at Albany his friends will doubtless find equal consolation in the fact that it has not yet been shown how he can be beaten; and these negative satisfactions are all that has yet been supplied in the way of flat-tering unction for anybody's soul.

The Disunited Opposition. Mr. Conkling holds enough votes to render impossible the election of any other even in the very remote contingency that all the votes not cast for him could be

It is very likely that the phalanx that stands by the late Senator is a stanch one and will stay where it stands, for it can hardly be supposed, considering the history of the republican party, that out of a hundred of its representative men there would not be at least this many with generosity, spirit and principle enough to be affected by the great qualities of the man who has for so many years been the foremost republican in this state, and with fidelity enough to sustain him gallantly at an important crisis in the history both of the party and the man.

The New York Senatorial Contest.

Special Dispatch to THE DAILY CRITIC.

ALBANY, June 4.—It is now quite evident that the conjecture that two Senators would be elected this week will not be realized. A prolonged deadlock or an adjournment without an election is threatened. Conkling and Platt's followers, though comparatively few in numbers, have good staying qualities, and they fotend to exert an important influence upon the final result. There are two possible ways of breaking the deadlock. One is a ways of breaking the deadlock. One is a combination between stalwards and democrats, by which Conkling and a democratic Senator would be returned. Although such a proposition has been scouted by both these parties, if the battle settles down into a choice between very objectionable evils, there is no telling what may happen. The other combination, which might have winning force, is between Cornell and Denew. Such a fleeces of the Caucasian lambs, the spectacle is not edifying.

Aid of the Administration.

It is not made more edifying by the fact that the administration of the federal government has helped to bring it about, and that Hoar and Dawes and Logan regard it as a most moral, instructive and inspiring exhibition. And after all it is quite as edifying as the spectacle presented at Albany in the efforts of various republicans to divide among them the spoils of the only leader the republican party has had in this state since Wm. H. Seward.

More Cheerful.

Canadian Competition.
Paris, June 4.—It is stated that the Canada Pacific Railway Company has sold to a group of French agriculturists 200,000 acres of land at $1.25 per acre, and that the buyers intend to colonize the land and promote Canadian competition with the United States.

The Anglo-French Treaty.
Pants, June 4.—The Anglo-French
Commission to negotiate a new commercial treaty after several meetings during the week has adjourned to allow the French Commissioners to consult their government on questions of principle. It is said that the French Commissioners display strong protectionist leanings. The success of the negotiations is doubtful and it is thought that the present tariff may be prolonged and a new treaty negotiated after the French elections. after the French elections.

German Politics.

London, June i.—A Berlin dispatch to the Times says: "The fate of the government's insurance bill would appear to be sealed as far as the present Parliament is concerned, as Prince Bismarck recently declared that the provision for a state subsidy, which the committee and the Reichstag rejected was indispensable. The effect of the introduction of the bill on the pending elections will probably be the same as if the bill had passed."

Gladstone and Parnell.
London, June 4.—In the Commons Mr. Gladstone, in the course of a reply to a question, defended the threats to evict tenants on the Kenmare property on the ground that most immoral doctrines had been prached concerning rent. Mr. Par. been preached concerning rent. Mr. Par-nell defended this advice to withhold unjust rents and said Mr. Forster in not restrain-ing landlerds had violated the solemn pledges of the government and thrown its weight on the side of the landlords, but the tenants, he declared, would continue to fight the question of rents and he believed they would win, even against bayonets
